CHARITY VOYAGE VIENNA-DUBAI

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

A bold idea has become a solid project. In a world in which the European Union envelopes what, until some years ago was divided by many thousand kilometres of borderline, today's youth is not satisfied with looking over the national borders but thinks outside of the European box.

The task: Vienna-Dubai, about 6000km, with a 1975 VW-Bus, a vehicle of the generation of our parents which are to a big deal responsible for the peaceful Europe we are living in today.

Why?

To remind people that the privileged positions in which we grew up are not the norm and that this proximity is much closer than many would care to admit.

The route leads us from central Europe, Vienna, over Budapest, Belgrade, Sofia, Istanbul, Ankara, Damascus, Amman, Saudi Arabia and Qatar all the way to the sandy city of superlatives in Asia, Dubai. A route embedded in regions soaked with history home to many different ideologies and coloured with different cultures and religions alike.

In this area, well known to the average European through the media, we will get attention from the news ourselves. ATV an Austrian Broadcast station and the well known Austrian newspaper "Krone" are going to cover our story and our car which is going to offer its sheets to advertisements. Furthermore we have realtime updates on the location of the bus via GPS (sponsored by truckloc) straight to our homepage. The pure profit, of at least €5000, of the "Charity Voyage Vienna-Dubai" goes to "Sonne International" an international charity organisation with the aim to offer education to children in need in developing countries. Further information can be found on our webpage:
